

Your Privacy

Your personal information is kept private. We'll collect only the information we need to serve you. At Haydel's Bakery, we will ask you to provide us with only the personal information we need to complete your transaction, to enable us to provide you with customer service. Haydel's Bakery collects no personally identifying information about you except when you specifically and knowingly provide such information. We require your email address to confirm your order and to contact you regarding your purchases and shipments. We'll store that information securely. Any information you choose to provide to Haydel's Bakery will be protected and stored on a secure server which is not accessible to the Internet. Like most major Web sites, Haydel's Bakery uses "cookies" to enable us to serve you. Cookies are an industry-standard technology which make the use of our online shopping cart possible, among other features, and our use of cookies does not infringe upon your privacy. A cookie is a small data file that a Web site writes to your hard drive when you visit, which assigns you a unique ID and allows the site to save selections made and information entered during your time at the site, and to recognize you when you return. We won't share any information without your permission. Haydel's Bakery believes in your right to informed consent in the handling of your information. We will not rent or sell your personal information to any other company.
